Pharmagreen Biotech, Inc. (OTC: PHBI), a company specializing in the development of highest quality tissue cultured starter plantlets for the cannabis and hemp industry, announced today that the Company has voluntarily filed for petitions for relief under chapter 11 of the U.S. Bankruptcy Code in the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the District of Nevada (the "Court").

"As we started to execute on our business plan, earlier this year before the spread of COVID-19, we completed a financing that carried toxic terms after 6 months. Due to the Pandemic, our ETN process got delayed as Europe shut down for over two months, and these notes became due and as result, these lenders are seeking very toxic conversions that would essentially wipe out the company's valuation. After taking much time to carefully analyze our strategic options, we have decided that a voluntary chapter 11 filing provides the best possible outcome for Pharmagreen," said Pharmagreen Biotech CEO Peter Wojcik. "We plan to engage all our lenders to settle debts in a way that is fair and beneficial for all parties going forward."

The Company has filed customary motions with the Bankruptcy Court that will allow, upon Bankruptcy Court approval, the Company's ability to continue operations in the ordinary course of business, including, among other things, payment of suppliers and vendors and the use of cash collateral. These motions are typical in the Chapter 11 process and the Company anticipates that they will be approved shortly after the commencement of its Chapter 11 case. The Company plans to use the Chapter 11 process to build a comprehensive restructuring plan that will allow the Company to emerge from Chapter 11 with a manageable balance sheet.
